Introduction

Overview

Reports are the document containing information organized in a required format. Reports are created periodically, to know the status of the system during peak and non-peak transaction hours.

Review, history of incoming and outgoing documents, and place the information on a chart showing daily, weekly, and monthly processing trends. Report charts determine peak volume processing levels according to historical processing methods. In addition to Sterling File Gateway report, review the other reports, such as the Database usage report, performance statistics report and the cache usage report, to determine processing levels.

Tips

Overview

Following are the few tips of accessing Sterling File Gateway reports in Internet Explorer 7:

- By default, only first 1000 activity records that match the specified criteria are listed. You can set another value for the number of records to be included in reports in filegateway_ui.properties.
- Sterling File Gateway users with Microsoft Internet Explorer 7 can open one PDF type report at a time due to Internet Explorer 7 content blocking security.
- Close the original report window or adjust Internet Explorer 7 browser setting or configure Adobe Reader not to open the reports in a browser.
- In Internet Explorer 7, select Tools > Internet Options > Security (tab) > Custom level > Downloads > Automatic prompting for file downloads > Enabled.
- In Adobe Reader, select Preferences > Display PDF in browser > disabled.
- For report with Asian Characters, you need to download and install the special Acrobat Reader Asian font packs from www.adobe.com.
